REASONS.

There are forty reasons why men dress well, some of them decidedly curious should they be probed.

Expediency of odd sorts, serves to accomplish certain ends and the like.

Most men, we trust, rise to the higher plane of neatness and good taste. A well bred man pleases himself and enjoys a satisfaction in knowing he attracts no attention by too little dress or too much.
In our very full supply of NEW FALL
BUSINESS SUITS, DRESS SUITS, FALL
OVERCOATS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, you will find the happy medium, that every gentleman of good taste and every mother of refinement, who wishes to see her boys well dressed, enjoys.

In answer to the enquiry so often asked,
WHERE CAN I DO THE BEST? we would say, and prove it if necessary, that every dollar's worth of goods that is delivered to us, after being examined and found correct, is paid for, SPOT CASH.
This, and a twenty years' experience in our business, knowing how to buy, where to buy, offsets any argument that has been and may be made by any of our competitors as to their offering extraordinary bargains without any good reason on their part as to their superior ability, financially or otherwise, to procure them.

Cause No. 11,286.

DICK STICKLE is a poor man, but that is no crime in this country just yet. He will make a tip-top treasurer, too, and could attend to the office in first class shape. He is the "best man," beyond question.

The President has pardoned three Mormon Bishops of Arizona, on the ground that they were illegally convicted. It looks as though this administration would a little rather pardon Mormons than convict them.

According to Bayard's latest deliverance, if the captain of an American fishing smack does not want the Canadian officials to haul down his flag he ought not to fly one. He says in effect, "Served you right; you should not have the audacity to have the stars and stripes aboard your vessel."

Our candidate for senator is making a lively and effective campaign, and whenever he goes he makes friends and wins votes. The fact that he is the best man in the field for senator is no apparent that he will receive many votes outside of his party. His prospects, in spite of the closeness of the district, are exceedingly flattering.

The Republican candidate for county treasurer has been having a bad spell of sickness, but he is on the mend, and though he has been out of town every night this week he continues to improve. Dick is gaining friends every day, and his election may be set down as among the certainties of the future.

WILSON ALLEN, the saw-mill man of Salt Creek, long a resident of DeWitt county, died at his home in Lagrange, Georgia, on 1st day of October, in the 54th year of his age. At the time of his death he was living with his wife, a very worthy woman, with one child survives him. The deceased resided in DeWitt county many years ago.

The same administration that has proclaimed public utility to be a public trust has asked, admitted and condoned Attorney General Garland's flagrant prostitution of public functions to sordid private ends. The same administration that has ostentatiously warned postmasters and revenue collectors against meddling in politics sends their members of the Cabinet and the President's private secretary to take part in the canvass for nominating a successor to Mayor Grace in New York.

Capt. Rowley's speech at the court house last night, was listened to attentively by the large audience present, and the effect cannot fail to make itself apparent on election day. The Captain does not deal in abuse and vituperation, but devotes his attention to a simple statement of facts, deducing therefrom arguments that are unanswerable. His arraignment of the Democratic party for its repeated violations of the promises upon which it gained power was a powerful one, and yet it was true in every particular. It is only to be regretted that there were not more Democrats present to hear the speech.

Over One Hundred Lives Lost—The Last News Always the Worst.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16.—The latest reports from Sabine Pass place the loss of life at over one hundred, including fifty negroes. There is not a house left standing. The high-tides are in a wretched condition. Many vessels are ashore many miles from water. Relief parties are at work in all directions. The steamer Lamar went to Beaumont last night for additional help. They rescued thirteen persons and picked up a yawl containing eleven Mexicans from some unknown vessels. Mrs. O. H. Brown was picked up twenty miles from Sabine Pass on a feather bed. It is impossible at this hour to estimate the loss, but it is great. Relief parties are leaving Orange, Texas, for the scene of the disaster. Six bodies were found in an old river cave twenty-five miles from the pass. The Mexican schooner Hercules, from Matanzas for New Orleans, is ashore. The people are burying dead bodies wherever found.

The most of those rescued seem dazed by the terrible experience they have passed through, and few of them seem by your correspondent were able to give any intelligible account of the disaster. As one gentleman put it: "There is nothing to tell except that the water came in and swept the town out of existence. I believe every house was destroyed, and at least two-thirds of the people drowned. I know my house was turned over and washed to pieces by the waves. I have nothing but myself. As luck would have it, all the members of my family were away from town."

The way from the high-tides nearly to Morgan City, over half-way to New Orleans. Telegraph wires in that direction are prostrated and facts are hard to get from there, but it is known that trees are blown down across the track of the railroad and the wires are broken in fifteen places between here and Orange on the State line.

A VISIT TO THE SCENE. From one of the gentlemen who was on the relief steamer was obtained the following statement: "The relief steamer made good time, and we were soon on the lake, crossing and recrossing, and dropping the skiffs and other boats with men and provisions at every place and point where it was thought possible others might likely be found. Shortly after daylight we reached Sabine Pass, having picked up a number of men on the way, and the slight breeze prevented us from making any further progress. The little town is a total wreck, the buildings being twisted and flattened into all manner of shapes, some completely upset and removed from their foundations a hundred to four hundred yards. There is not one inhabitable house in the place. Not even the sign of a wrecked building could be found, and not a dollar's worth of goods, so far as we could learn, was saved by all the merchants combined. The Jetty Company's wharves are completely gone, save the one building, which is badly wrecked. The lighthouse is seriously damaged. The schooner Silas has out on the beach about four hundred yards from the water, and is a total loss. The railway for six or eight miles is a twisted mass of iron.

The loss of life is greater than has been stated, but the confusion a full list of the dead was unobtainable. Our steamer found the remaining inhabitants suffering for food and water and from the nights of exposure. We were able to relieve them as was once begun. The water in the streets of the town was from one to two feet deep. All the sufferers were gotten aboard the steamer as speedily as possible and their wants supplied as best we could. When all were aboard the steamer returned to the water, and out of which a number of sufferers were taken. Here a small craft was sighted out in the gulf. The steamer went out and picked up eight men, the crew of a Mexican schooner which was swamped about ten miles off the Pass. Having supplied all who were aboard with food and water, we returned to Beaumont with ninety-three residents of Sabine Pass, mostly women and children. On the way across the bay, Mrs. Otto Brown and a number of others were picked up, having been rescued by the boats dropped by the steamer in the morning. Beaumont was reached at twelve o'clock, and here the people proceeded at once to provide for the further comfort of the sufferers.

A small boat sent out to Johnson's Bayou returned to the steamer in the afternoon with the most distressing reports from that community, hundreds of persons being drowned as well as fearful and complete destruction of property, in

BIG BLOW AT BUFFALO.

The Mad Element Attacking Our Devoted Country on all Sides.

The City of Buffalo, Battered By a Calamity Only Second to That on the Gulf Coast.

Property of all Kinds Damaged to an Enormous Extent—Scenes of Misery and Destruction.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 16.—The most disastrous storm that Buffalo has known for many years struck the city last evening. The wind blew fifty-three miles an hour, raising the lake from six to twelve feet, flooding all the lower edges of the city, covering the island, Tift farm, Lake road and the entire Thirteenth ward. Many houses were moved from their foundations, and at least a score of dwellings demolished. Five lives are reported lost. The New York Central's belt line trestles were cut off, stopping all traffic on the line. The whole western and southern edge of the city was flooded.

The scenes of misery and destruction on the island and about the water-front are beyond example. It is estimated that over two hundred women and children are absolutely without food and shelter. Little bunch presents a scene of desolation and distress. Little frame houses of squatters along the sea wall were washed over to the west shore, and the Buffalo, New Yorks and Philadelphia tracks are men of them in condition of kindling wood, and wrecks are scattered about in every direction, while amidst the ruins of their homes, the poor people are crying and wringing their hands over the loss of nearly every thing they had in the world.

The tracks of the West Shore were torn up and washed back in some places a distance of two feet. The bridge in the sea-wall, which occurred about four months ago, was extended about fifty feet further west, and through this the wrecked cars were sent.

When the waters began their work of destruction on the little frame houses, diving the inmates into the water, four have young men were seen to jump and went to the rescue, performing many deeds of valor. About twenty families owe their lives to the heroism of the volunteers.

The beach road from the Leigh track southward in the direction of Bayview, was covered with a floating sea of water. The water had swept back over the meadows, wrecking every house within sight. Jacob Dietrich, a toll-gate keeper on the road to Bayview, was swept away and exposed seven, and Jacob, aged one—from exposure. The horrors of the night were begun when the wind and surging water began to sweep the city from the shore and carried it three-quarters of a mile. The parents were saved after a faithful experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinn, a newly-married couple, were driven from their house and took refuge in a tree near the beach, remaining there all night. Their house is about on the meadows this morning, a quarter of a mile away from the shore. A steamer was carried four hundred feet inland.

The Queen City Rowing Club's boat, which was valued at $2,000, was swept away at midnight; loss, about $7,000. The yacht Emma B. was wrecked and sunk off Porter avenue. In the city proper trees were blown down, windows smashed, and much other havoc caused by the storm. The north wing of the new music hall, in course of construction, was so badly wrecked that the roof and all being gone. It is estimated that the loss to this instance will reach $5,000, and the accident will retard the completion of the building until next summer. The tower of the New Emanuel Church, eighty feet high, and built of wood, fell into the street last evening. Loss, about $25,000. A subscription has been started for the relief of the destitute people.

FROM WASHINGTON. The Coast Survey Scandal. WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Information was lodged with the District Attorney last evening, charging Captain Thoro, of the Coast Survey, and eight of his assistants with presenting and using fraudulent vouchers. Warrants were issued immediately to take the arrests with following: This case and the investigation of the bureau and the publication of the many taken in the investigation of last year which, for reasons unknown, has been religiously kept a secret. If the charges are true, the scandal is not only a disgrace to the Coast Survey, but seems but little doubt that there will be a complete reorganization of the bureau. V. J. Audin, who for some time was the chief accountant of the bureau, and who has long, perhaps, more than any one else to expose the fraud, was removed from his position at the request of Mr. Thoro, but was promised a better place in the Treasury Department. It seems that, through some influence, a place was not given Mr. Audin, and he now abandons the idea of taking any position in the Treasury. He sent last night the following letter to Assistant Secretary Fairchild: "I consider that no further connection with this administration or your department could be maintained with honor and credit to myself, I beg to request that any further connection relating to my position, appointment, transfer or reinstatement be cancelled, and that further official consideration of my case be discontinued."

BIG BLOW AT BUFFALO.

The Mad Element Attacking Our Devoted Country on all Sides.

The City of Buffalo, Battered By a Calamity Only Second to That on the Gulf Coast.

Property of all Kinds Damaged to an Enormous Extent—Scenes of Misery and Destruction.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 16.—The most disastrous storm that Buffalo has known for many years struck the city last evening. The wind blew fifty-three miles an hour, raising the lake from six to twelve feet, flooding all the lower edges of the city, covering the island, Tift farm, Lake road and the entire Thirteenth ward. Many houses were moved from their foundations, and at least a score of dwellings demolished. Five lives are reported lost. The New York Central's belt line trestles were cut off, stopping all traffic on the line. The whole western and southern edge of the city was flooded.

The scenes of misery and destruction on the island and about the water-front are beyond example. It is estimated that over two hundred women and children are absolutely without food and shelter. Little bunch presents a scene of desolation and distress. Little frame houses of squatters along the sea wall were washed over to the west shore, and the Buffalo, New Yorks and Philadelphia tracks are men of them in condition of kindling wood, and wrecks are scattered about in every direction, while amidst the ruins of their homes, the poor people are crying and wringing their hands over the loss of nearly every thing they had in the world.

The tracks of the West Shore were torn up and washed back in some places a distance of two feet. The bridge in the sea-wall, which occurred about four months ago, was extended about fifty feet further west, and through this the wrecked cars were sent.

When the waters began their work of destruction on the little frame houses, diving the inmates into the water, four have young men were seen to jump and went to the rescue, performing many deeds of valor. About twenty families owe their lives to the heroism of the volunteers.

The beach road from the Leigh track southward in the direction of Bayview, was covered with a floating sea of water. The water had swept back over the meadows, wrecking every house within sight. Jacob Dietrich, a toll-gate keeper on the road to Bayview, was swept away and exposed seven, and Jacob, aged one—from exposure. The horrors of the night were begun when the wind and surging water began to sweep the city from the shore and carried it three-quarters of a mile. The parents were saved after a faithful experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinn, a newly-married couple, were driven from their house and took refuge in a tree near the beach, remaining there all night. Their house is about on the meadows this morning, a quarter of a mile away from the shore. A steamer was carried four hundred feet inland.

The Queen City Rowing Club's boat, which was valued at $2,000, was swept away at midnight; loss, about $7,000. The yacht Emma B. was wrecked and sunk off Porter avenue. In the city proper trees were blown down, windows smashed, and much other havoc caused by the storm. The north wing of the new music hall, in course of construction, was so badly wrecked that the roof and all being gone. It is estimated that the loss to this instance will reach $5,000, and the accident will retard the completion of the building until next summer. The tower of the New Emanuel Church, eighty feet high, and built of wood, fell into the street last evening. Loss, about $25,000. A subscription has been started for the relief of the destitute people.

FROM WASHINGTON. The Coast Survey Scandal. WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Information was lodged with the District Attorney last evening, charging Captain Thoro, of the Coast Survey, and eight of his assistants with presenting and using fraudulent vouchers. Warrants were issued immediately to take the arrests with following: This case and the investigation of the bureau and the publication of the many taken in the investigation of last year which, for reasons unknown, has been religiously kept a secret. If the charges are true, the scandal is not only a disgrace to the Coast Survey, but seems but little doubt that there will be a complete reorganization of the bureau. V. J. Audin, who for some time was the chief accountant of the bureau, and who has long, perhaps, more than any one else to expose the fraud, was removed from his position at the request of Mr. Thoro, but was promised a better place in the Treasury Department. It seems that, through some influence, a place was not given Mr. Audin, and he now abandons the idea of taking any position in the Treasury. A colored man now serving a life sentence in the West Virginia penitentiary for a murder committed in Arkansas about ten years ago. The pardon was refused on the recommendation of Judge Parker of Arkansas, before whom the case was tried, and because of mitigating circumstances surrounding the crime. Thomas, it seems, on returning to his home one day, a short absence, discovered that a man, whom he had always regarded as a friend and for whom he had done many acts of kindness, had taken her away from his home. He became wild with rage, and overtaking the guilty pair, shot the man dead in his tracks. He was tried, convicted and sentenced to be hanged, but the sentence was subsequently commuted to imprisonment for life. Considerable sympathy was manifested for him, and a strong appeal was made for executive clemency. The President, in acting on the case, said he was satisfied that the man had been sufficiently punished for what he had done.

The French Guests. WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—In view of the fact that Congress failed to make the necessary appropriations for the entertainment of representatives of France to witness the dedication ceremonies of the French embassy, the President could not invite guests in the name of the Nation. In order, however, to manifest the proper courtesy of the Government to the French Republic, the President instructed Secretary of State Bayard to authorize Minister McLane to extend the invitations in the name of the President. Assistant Secretary of State Bayard says that the matter had been agreed upon only a few days ago, when the instructions were immediately called to Minister McLane. He did not know how many would be invited. "This is all left with the Minister," said the Assistant Secretary, "and I suppose he will be governed by the wishes of the French ambassador as to whom the invitations should be extended to."

Big Injun Glover After the Seal or Dark Lantern Dick. WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—It has been reported that Mr. Glover had a long private interview, by appointment, Thursday with the President. Mr. Glover came away evidently very much gratified with the result, but refused to disclose the subject of the conversation or any of its details. From inquiries made at one of the departments there is the best reason for believing that the President's officers were the subject of discussion, and that the notorious Lunscher's time is very short. Mr. Glover declined to give any information. It is known, however, that he secured a confidential friend of the early demise of the President. In official circles here, Mr. Glover's recommendation, after the President's approval, is considered quite significant.

AN EXPERT JUMPER. Ambrose to Risk His Life Where Sam Patch Perished. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Lawrence M. Donovan, the famous bridge jumper, arrived here Thursday night and is staying at the Globe Hotel with Prof. Labossiere, a well-known local sport. He is firm in his determination to take the jump that wrenched Sam Patch's life. When Donovan arrived he had no idea of the situation. Labossiere explained to him that there is no bridge from which he can jump, and that the only place to build a platform at the edge of the falls, the leap to be made from the platform. Donovan was also informed that but little is known as to the exact place to have the platform built on the eastern portion of the ledge and extend out about fifteen feet, so as to clear the rocks. Donovan, however, preferred to jump from the center of the ledge, which is the highest point, and it is possible the platform will be built there. The next thing to do was to send the river to ascertain where it is deep enough for the jump and free from rocks. No boat was found between the falls and Vincent street bridge, and it was decided to get a crocodile further down and have it carried up the river. The work of examining the river bed with a sounding line will take some time. Labossiere says he will make a jump of $500 for Donovan. Chief of Police Cleary sent word to Donovan that he would not be allowed to jump. Speaking of the action of the authorities, Donovan said: "If I do not think I have any right to interfere, and I think they will not when I explain that I am an expert jumper. I have been successful in making the jump the last time I have jumped, and will assure the officers that I expect to be equally successful in this one."

The Steamer New Brunswick Supposed to Be on Fire. DUNY, N. S., Oct. 16.—Thursday afternoon the steamer New Brunswick, of the International Line, plying between here and Boston, left here for Boston at four o'clock with about a hundred passengers, freight, etc. Yesterday the lighthouse-keeper here reported that the steamer was off Trout Cove twelve miles, and remained nearly stationary until after dark. After that sky-rockets were seen issuing from the steamer, and then she burst out from the place where the steamer was supposed to be. Two captains of fishing vessels, corroborating the report of the lighthouse-keeper. It is thought by some that the boiler may have burst because if the steamer had taken fire first the way was calm and boats could have easily reached shore, evidently something has happened to the steamer, as all agree that before dark she remained in the same place for hours. Many persons having friends on board are almost wild with suspense. The vessel was built at New in 1867 was 220 feet long, 28 feet wide, and has a net tonnage of 573 7/8 tons, with 420 nominal horse power.

RALLY AT THE COURT HOUSE.

Stirring Speech by Capt. Rowell.—Turn Out of the Young Republicans' Club.

The first Republican rally of this "off year" campaign was held at the court house last night, and despite the many other gatherings in the city, the room was comfortably filled with voters and ladies.

Shortly after seven o'clock the members of the Young Republicans Club, who have enlisted for the victorious campaign of 1894 and the present as well as assembled in goodly numbers at Guards Armory and fell into line for escort duty, commanded by Captain Strange and Sergeant Dodson. Headed by Goodman's Band, the club marched by fours with military precision to the Deming hotel, where the club came to a front to salute Captain Rowell, the present and next congressman from this district. Without further ado, Captain Rowell and the committee took their places at the center of the column and the club marched in open order to the court house, where the club came to a front again and the speaker entered the hall, while the band played selections in front of the entrance. The demonstration was quite a success, and attracted much attention along the line of march.

THE SPEECH.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. W. O. Johns, the next senator, who presided as chairman and presented the speaker, who was warmly greeted.

1st.
